

I spent the last term on the executive learning how the CLA operates. My goals for the next term are to bolster the CLA's professional development with the creation of a transcript and audio database filled with effective examples of cross-examinations and jury addresses. I also hope to create a system for addressing commonly litigated issues which produces current factums and submissions for our members to use. Lastly, I would like to see the creation of a case consulting program staffed with successful criminal lawyers to help our members tackle their most challenging cases. Overall, I want to see the CLA operate as an effective training ground for members and as an invaluable aid for all criminal lawyers navigating their busy practices.
