

Maya Borooh, Henein Hutchison Robitaille LLP

Maya Borooh is a senior associate at Henein Hutchison Robitaille LLP, where her practice focuses on criminal and regulatory litigation, as well as internal investigations. She has appeared before all levels of court, as well as before the Senate Standing Committee on Human Rights. Prior to joining Henein Hutchison Robitaille, Maya clerked for the Alberta Court of Appeal. Maya graduated from University of Ottawa Law School magna cum laude. Maya is a co-author of Sentencing Principles and Practice (2nd Edition), published in November 2023 as part of Emond's Criminal Law Series. Maya is a member of the CLA Women's Committee.